COMPANY PROFILE	GREEN PHILOSOPHY	Due to Maya's long-standing commitment to Eastern philosophy, respect for materials has always been of primary importance to our company--the majority of our work has always been considered "green". We produce many of our wallcoverings by hand in our Chicago studio and consequently have a great deal of control over what goes into the products we sell and how our employees are treated. Maya Romanoff Corporation strives to use natural and sustainable materials, works only with factories that are clean and treat their workers fairly, and purchases materials from local sources wherever possible.
